Hot Picks

The Denver outpost of classic French bistro legend Le Bilboquet (299 St. Paul St., 303.835.9999, lebilboquetdenver.com) has recently opened in the St. Paul Collection tower nearby. Recharge your batteries after a shopping spree with its famed PEI mussels or wagyu beef tartare.

For a dining experience unlike anything else in Denver, heed the call of Beckon (2843 Larimer St., (303.749.0020, beckondenver.com). You'll be seated with 17 other guests at a wraparound bar, where each person's dynamic menu ($115 per person) is individually created based on tastes, textures and dietary restrictions—or desires. Pay a set price and explore eight courses served over several hours.

Louis Vuitton, Neiman Marcus, Tory Burch—oh, my. The Denver retail mecca of Cherry Creek Shopping Center offers an unmatched spectrum of luxury stores and experiences in an artful, booming and chic neighborhood. And the 201-room The Jacquard Hotel & Rooftop is right in the heart of it all. With its own connection to fashion via its eponymous reference to the famed fabric, the hotel, a member of Marriott's upscale Autograph collection, aims to deliver "Haute Happiness" in bright, modern accommodations swathed in touch-friendly fabrics, wood, metal and leather that lend an appropriately tailored note. Reportedly, some former The Bachelor and The Bachelorette contestants and Broncos wide receiver

Emmanuel Sanders agree. In warmer months, a small-but-potent rooftop pool with its own bar and dining area draws sun-seekers to enjoy the city and mountain views. Top digs are one of the three one-bedroom suites, which also come equipped with separate dens, upgraded and extended bath amenities and Peloton bikes for in-room exercise.

But, of course, you'll want to get out and shop, yes? The property's in-house style curator can assist guests with guided or unguided access to the latest offerings around Cherry Creek and hottest pop-ups. In fact, a new In Vogue Vacation package folds in a Cherry Creek North gift card, complimentary breakfast at the hotel's Narrative restaurant, transportation in the hotel's Tesla Model X and more. Rooms from $350, suites from $699, 222 Milwaukee St., Denver, 303.515.2000, thejacquard.com
