Narrative Restaurant Hires Chef Aaron Whitcomb

Chef Aaron Whitcomb Joined the Narrative Storied Food & Drink Team in March of 2022

DENVER – Chef Whitcomb joined the Narrative team as the Executive Chef in March of 2022. He was born and raised in Colorado, but has had the opportunity to live in Chicago, Monterey Bay, Raleigh, and Phoenix. His heart always brings him back home to Colorado. He is an avid foodie and loves exploring the Denver restaurant scene.

Chef graduated from the Art Institute of Colorado and finished Top of his Class in the Court of Master Sommeliers. He has a passion for food and wine pairings and the experiences built around them. He was most recently at Ya Ya's European Bistro.

"I always knew I wanted to cook," Chef Whitcomb says. "I helped my mom cook a lot at home, and instead of watching cartoons growing up, I watched Julia Child, Graham Kerr and The Frugal Gourmet, which my mom thought was weird, but along the way, I learned that I could really cook -- that I was good at it."

Chef is an avid fisherman and most of his vacations involve fishing destinations. He also enjoys making his own lacto-fermented hot sauces, pickles, as well as his own Kahlua mix for White Russians that he calls, Abide (after the Dude in The Big Lebowski.)

About Narrative Storied Food & Drink

Located in the lobby of The Jacquard Hotel & Rooftop in Denver's iconic Cherry Creek district, Narrative's approachable menu features modern American dishes, globally inspired shareable plates, a robust happy hour and more. A diverse wine library featuring nearly 100 selections, blending Old World and New, complements the menu, while two dining rooms are available for groups as well as private experiential dining. Featuring valet parking for all guests, Narrative's inviting atmosphere, with an outdoor patio, floor-to-ceiling windows and high ceilings, brings guests back time and time again.
